Two Stair Step students went to Lee: Markus Schultz and Hannah Leleux. We had a safe drive up and back. We talked with students in computer sciences fundamentals two taught by Suzanne Nordhaus; the talk went well. There were five students and two teacher’s aides. They seem to get really into the talk, and they asked a good number of questions. We left our emails with them in case they had any more questions.

Next time it may be good to practice or talk about what to talk about with the whole of STAIRSTEP before going, but overall it when really well. We didn’t take any pictures and we didn’t take any of the names of the students.
