Suffice to say the speed interview event was a very simple event, even though it lasted 2 hours. When I sat down at the first interviewer I was indeed nervous and made a few mistakes. After that though, thanks to the advice from the interviewer, I was able to become more confident and able to answer the questions correctly and in a manner that made them like me. The rest of the time was spent going to the various interviewers at least once. Overall I would say that the whole experience was a worth while experience.

Speed Interviewing was hosted by Lamar’s Career Center in the Setzer ballroom. Representatives from mostly local companies attended to give students practice with interviews. Students had 5 minutes of interview followed by 1 minute of critique with each representative. Some companies sent extra people who offered to critique resumes. I received several helpful critiques for interviewing and a few tips to make my resume just that much better. I’m very glad that I was able to attend.

Wednesday was Lamar’s Career and Testing Center held a speed interviewing session. They had four lines of about 5 companies in each line. Each interview was about 5 minutes, 4 for interview and 1 for critique. I only went through one line, but I got a lot of good information. I got questions like “Tell me about yourself”, “If you were an animal, what would you be?”, and “Tell me about a time when you were leading a project.” It was good practice and the feedback really helped me. I had to leave early since I had class, but I will definitely go to the next Speed Interviewing event that the C&TC organizes.
