The University of Salamanca, the oldest existing Hispanic university, was founded in 1218 by King Alfonso IX of León. The University of Salamanca, known as the USAL has 9 campuses and over 30,000 students. The USAL is considered one of the largest and most prestigious Spanish teaching facilities in the world, every year it welcomes, thousands of foreign students from diverse educational exchange programs to their Spanish Language and Culture courses.

The city of Salamanca

Was declared a “World Heritage site” by UNESCO in 1988; and chosen as the “European Capital of Culture” in 2002. Salamanca is the quintessential Spanish university town by its excellence and it owns a marvellous artistic-historical monumental group. Salamanca is located in the Midwest of Spain in the region of Castilla y León. It is 200 km from Madrid and 100 km from Portugal.
