

BIOGRAPHY

Nancy Stretcher graduated from Many High School in Many, Louisiana, in 1975. She attended Lamar University and received her Bachelor of Business Administration in Office Administration in 1981. She began her career as a legal secretary and continued such until 1992. In 1993, she began the next era of her career at Lamar State College-Port Arthur (then known as Lamar University-Port Arthur) as an instructor in the Computer Information Systems program. She returned to Lamar University to pursue her Master of Business Administration and received same in 1998. In 1999, she had the additional responsibility of Program Coordinator for the CIS program. She was accepted into Cohort II in 2005 at Lamar University where she earned a Doctorate of Education in Educational Leadership in 2008. In 2010, she began the next phase of her career in higher education administration. She has served as Dean of Technical Programs (2012 to 2014) and currently serves as Director of Institutional Effectiveness (2010 to present).