Aims and Purposes

Within the context of a philosophy that suggests that art and science may improve upon nature, the College of Fine Arts and Communication provides work on a professional level in several creative and practical disciplines. The College also assumes the role of contributing to the education of the “whole” person; therefore, with the possible exception of some of the upper-level courses, all of the work available in the College is open to and within the capabilities of most students enrolled in the University. It is the purpose of those courses in the fine arts to confront the unknown from a non-science oriented approach to knowledge, to encourage the development of aesthetic sensitivity and to provide for an enriching artistic experience. Several programs in Communication are available within the College. The goal of the coursework in these areas is to educate students for professional work within the fields of public speaking, the mass media, communication disorders and deaf education.

The Department of Art provides an environment designed to nurture artistic, academic and personal growth in our students. Through its curricula and community outreach the Department prepares the student for a professional career in the discipline with courses in both practice and theory. In a time when the visual arts are undergoing rapid change, the department maintains a balance between its own traditions and the unknown challenges of the future, between skill-building and theoretical insights. Educational, cultural, and academic opportunities are made available so that each student might reach his or her full potential and participate in those human experiences and qualities which are inherent in the fine arts. Building on a legacy of quality teaching, the faculty of the Department of Art are actively involved in scholarly and creative activities, serving as a model of commitment to excellence.

The Department of Art offers undergraduate instruction leading to the Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree in either Graphic Design or Studio Art. Students may elect courses that further professional development in the following areas: Visual Design, Illustration, Computer Graphics, Photography, Painting, Drawing, Printmaking, Sculpture, Ceramics, Video Art and Fibers. The Department of Deaf Studies and Deaf Education (DSDE) supports instruction, research, and service, the primary mission areas of Lamar University, through the degree programs offered. The department offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in American Sign Language (ASL) for students interested in pursuing work in the teaching of ASL in EC-12 grades. The undergraduate major is also a suitable foundation program for a graduate specialization, state license, and/or national certification within the professional field of deaf education. This program of study is accredited by the Council on Education of the Deaf (CED). Completion of the master's degree is strongly advised by our department faculty in deaf education. (See the Graduate Catalog for requirements).

The new Bachelor of Arts degree in American Sign Language (BA-ASL) emphasizes excellent teaching in American Sign Language. This degree enables the student to acquire competence in expressive and receptive skills and familiarity with the literature and culture of the Deaf community. While this degree is targeted toward a teaching certificate, sign language interpreters will find this degree supportive of their professional goals. (See department chair or advisors for a degree plan).

Teacher certification plans are offered in conjunction with the major study of Deaf Education. Details concerning requirements for teacher certification and the professional education course requirements should be obtained from an undergraduate advisor in Deaf Education and/or from the College of Education and Human Development section of this catalog.

A new student initiating study at Lamar University must meet all admission requirements of the University (See "Admission" the catalog). Transfer students or students who wish to enter the Department of Deaf Studies and Deaf Education (DSDE) programs by change of major must meet admission requirements or have a minimum grade point average of 2.50 or better. Grades of "D" are not acceptable as course completion for required classes in departmental majors, nor are they acceptable as course completion for classes to be used as professional electives by student majors within the department.

Programs of Study

All majors in this department must complete the basic Core Curriculum requirements of Lamar University as their academic foundation course work. Faculty advisors will provide direction to the student concerning departmental requirements within the Core Curriculum when course choices are available to meet the University's Core Curriculum requirements. The Department of Deaf Studies and Deaf Education requires all transfer, freshmen-level, and senior-level students to see a faculty advisor within the department. Further, this Department strongly encourages all students to seek academic advisement from the faculty for efficient matriculation through the undergraduate program. Advisors may be seen during the university posted time for each semester or by appointment. Required courses are listed with more information about each.

Applied Music Requirements

General Requirements

Music majors must be enrolled in applied music each long semester until the applied music requirement is met. The required sequence of courses includes a minimum of four semesters of lower-level (1200 series) courses in applied music.

Students in the teacher certification program must complete three additional semesters of upper-level (3200 series) applied music courses. Students in the performance program must complete four semesters of upper-level (3400 series) applied music courses.

Completion of the applied music requirement signifies the attainment of a given level of artistic performance rather than the completion of a specific number of semester hours of credit. A student may, at the discretion of the applied music faculty, be required to repeat any course in the applied music sequence; in such a case, the course may be repeated for credit. The applied music requirement is not satisfied until approval of the faculty is obtained.

Any student registered for an applied music course (except 1101 and 1181) will be required to perform in a major ensemble and pass a jury examination each long semester. With permission from the private instructor, a student may be exempt from jury examination in the semester during which the Senior Recital is to be performed.

Recital Performance Requirements

Bachelor of Music (Teacher Certification): Each Bachelor of Music (leading to Teacher Certification) major will perform a senior recital 30 minutes in length. The recital may be performed jointly with another student and will take place during the senior year. The recital can be scheduled during the regular recital period or as an afternoon recital. The student must be enrolled in applied music during the semester in which the recital is to be performed. Bachelor of Music (in Performance): 1) Upon completion of four semesters of lower-level applied music, the student must pass a performance jury examination to be eligible to advance to upper-level (3400 series) applied music courses; 2) during the second semester of upper-level instruction, the performance major must play a junior audition recital. This recital must be 30 minutes in length and may be given jointly with another student; however, each performer must complete his or her portion of the recital in succession. The recital can be given during the regularly scheduled recital period or as an afternoon recital. A satisfactory Junior Audition Recital is a prerequisite for proceeding to a Senior Performance Recital; 3) during the fourth semester of upper-level study, a Senior Performance Recital will be given. This recital must be 60 minutes in length and may be scheduled during the regular recital time, at the afternoon recital time, or at an approved evening time. Recital requirements for Bachelor of Music in Composition: Junior year: Public presentation of at least one original composition for any medium. Minimum length: 5 minutes. The student is responsible for recruiting and rehearsing the performer(s). Senior year: Presentation of a recital of original compositions. Generally the requirement is for at least four compositions, for differing media, although if one or more compositions are unusually long, exceptions may be made. Minimum length: 25 minutes of music (excluding time between movements, set-up time between pieces, etc.). The student is responsible for recruiting and rehearsing the performers, as well as coordinating the performance. Part of the grade for the recital will be dependent on the success of these efforts. Bachelor of Arts: The Bachelor of Arts major will perform on regular recitals as required by the faculty. The Bachelor of Arts major will not be required to perform a senior recital. General policies for performance major auditions and recitals: 1) A performance major MUST make formal application for admission to upper-level applied music, junior audition recital and senior recital at least two weeks prior to the jury or recital. The application forms are available from the chair of the music department and should be submitted to the applied teacher; 2) to advance to upper-level applied music, the performance major must have two-thirds approval of the sophomore jury panel; 3) junior audition recitals and senior recitals will be graded on a pass/fail basis by a faculty panel of three, chosen by the chair of the music department and the private teacher. Two-thirds approval of the faculty panel is necessary to pass. The student must be enrolled in applied music during the semester in which the recital is to be performed.

Ensemble Participation

Participation in a major ensemble is required of full-time music students each long semester, except when student teaching. Major ensembles are as follows:

The Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences (SPHS) supports instruction, research and service, the primary mission areas of Lamar University, through the degree programs offered. The department offers a Bachelor of Science degree in Communication Disorders for students interested in pursuing work in the fields of audiology and speech-language pathology. The undergraduate major is a multi-disciplinary pre-professional program that provides a foundation for a graduate specialization, state license, and/or national certification within the professional fields of audiology and speech-language pathology. The graduate programs of study are accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation (CAA) for the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA). Completion of the master's degree is mandated by Texas law for professional employment in speech-language pathology. The degree for professional practice is now the Doctor of Audiology (Au.D.) (See the Graduate Catalog for requirements).

A new student initiating study at Lamar University must meet all admission requirements of the University (See "Admissions" this catalog). Transfer students or students who wish to enter the Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences programs by change of major must meet admission requirements or have a minimum grade point average of 2.50 or better. Grades of "D" are not acceptable as course completion for required classes in departmental majors, nor are they acceptable as course completion for classes to be used as professional electives by student majors within the department.

Programs of Study

All majors in the department must complete the basic Core Curriculum requirements of Lamar University as their academic foundation course work. Faculty advisors will provide direction to the student concerning departmental requirements within the Core Curriculum when course choices are available to meet the University's Core Curriculum requirements. The Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences requires all transfer, freshmen-level, and senior-level students to see a faculty advisor within the department. Further, this Department strongly encourages all students to seek academic advisement from the faculty for efficient matriculation through the undergraduate program. Advisors may be seen during the university posted time for each semester or by appointment. Required courses are listed with more information about each.
