ATTIRE:
Dress conservatively. Make sure that your shoulders, upper arms, and knees are covered up in public. Avoid sheer, tight, or revealing clothing.

GREETINGS:
It is not accustomed that men shake hands with women, it may happen during business matters. If a person extends their hand first, it is appropriate to shake their hand. Some people prefer to place their hand on their chest as a signal that they prefer this form of greeting instead of shaking hands.

THINGS THAT ARE ILLEGAL:
Do not offer alcohol to a Muslim or minor. Alcohol is served in restricted and licensed areas only. Do not drink alcohol or be intoxicated in public, as it is offensive.

MINDFULNESS:
Be mindful of topics of discussion, do not get involved in arguments involving religion and politics. Be sensitive about beliefs, customs and tradition, respect their passion and faith.

OTHER DETAILS:
- Passing food with your left hand is considered unclean.
- No public displays of affection are permitted.
- When sitting, do not face the soles of your feet towards others.
- When speaking to others, make sure that you see everyone and that you are not sitting with your back facing them.
- Do not photograph women as it is considered offensive, ask permission before photographing men.
- Do not photograph government buildings, mosques, law enforcement or military installations.