Your Future

If numbers are your second language, then the Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting could open the door to your dream career. This program will prepare you to effectively address accounting issues and business-related problems in your career. Lamar University also boasts a strong partnership with the Southeast Texas Chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants, which opens doors for our accounting students.

If you are interested in becoming a certified public accountant, you can seamlessly integrate this degree into a Master of Science degree in Accounting, where you'll take the CPA exam as part of your program.
