

Jennifer Fagen, Ph.D., is an Associate Professor of Sociology at Lamar University. Dr. Fagen earned her BA in Social Sciences from Hofstra University, then went on to earn two Master's degrees before earning her Doctorate in Sociology from Northeastern University. She conducts research in the areas of gender, sexual assault, religion, feminism, and polygamy/plural marriage. She has also conducted five years of research on Operation Rescue, once the largest and most violent pro-life activist group in the US. She is on the editorial board of the Electronic Journal of Human Sexuality. Her research has been published in the Archives of Sexual Behavior, the Journal of Community Health, and by New York University Press. Dr. Fagen teaches courses in Sociology of Gender, Introduction to Sociology, Single Women in the US: A Sociological and Historical Perspective, Gender and Islam, and Marriage and Family.