About the Program

Study Spanish in Sevilla, the capital of Spain’s Andalucía region. Located in the south of the Peninsula, Andalucía provides an abundance of history, music, dance, architecture, literature, art, and folklore. It is the birthplace of Flamenco, and the home of three UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Take language courses while living with local families, and experience a rich array of cultural activities, including a Flamenco show and a Spanish cooking lesson, as well as excursions to Madrid, Córdoba, Itálica, and Granada. This is a program designed to help you enhance your language skills and prepare for today’s global workforce, while also learning about art and folklore of Andalucía – the land of enchantment. Students will have the option to take one or both courses offered.
