Keynote Speaker at the 7th HASBSEB Conference

Ms. Maria Stamatis

Speech Language Pathologist at 212 Therapy, Nederland, TX

Short bio: Ms. Maria Stamatis received her BS degree in Speech & Hearing Sciences from Lamar University in 2018, followed by her MS degree in Speech-Language Pathology from Lamar University in 2020. She has since joined the 212 Therapy Pediatric Home Therapy team as a Speech-Language Pathologist (CFY). Her current caseload includes pediatric populations diagnosed with language delays/disorder, articulation disorders, dysphagia/feeding difficulties, fluency disorders, and literacy deficits. Stamatis is also currently enrolled in an American Speech & Hearing Association (ASHA) accredited course that focuses on pediatric feeding/swallowing disorders for pediatric patients with sensory processing & autism spectrum disorders, tethered oral tissues, myofunctional disorders, and other complex needs.